

Kahua and McCormick Systems Announce a Strategic Partnership
Partnership will drive innovation for Subcontractors in the construction industry.

Alpharetta, GA and Chandler, AZ– August 24, 2018 – Kahua, creator of the world’s premier collaborative network for construction project management for subcontractors, and McCormick Systems, the industry leader in construction estimating software, announced a new strategic partnership today. Together, Kahua and McCormick Systems are creating efficiencies to drive innovation for subcontractors in the construction and building industry.

Kahua Subcontractor Project Management software was created specifically for subcontractors by subcontractors. Kahua’s innovative solution connects field to office, organizes documents, and streamlines communication to improve efficiency and reduce risk to profitably deliver superior project outcomes. Kahua is dedicated to building the next generation community of industry experts to help companies and individuals leverage this technology to level the playing field for subcontractors.

McCormick’s exclusive Estimating Suite and Design Estimating Pro (DEP) products give contractors a dramatic new way to perform speedy, smart takeoffs from digital drawings – PDF to Proposal in one program. McCormick has revolutionized the industry with this “All in One” system. Thousands of companies use McCormick software every day to maximize profitability and productivity in their contracting firms, creating smart, consistent and fast estimates.

“McCormick Systems is continuing to revolutionize the estimating needs of contractors,” said Jeff Burmeister, Director of Kahua’s Subcontractor Network. “We are excited to be partnering with them to improve efficiency throughout the electrical industry.”

“McCormick Systems shares Kahua’s belief that collaboration and innovation is what will change the construction and building industry. Kahua truly embraces the spirit of collaboration.” said CEO and President, Todd McCormick.

About Kahua: Kahua is changing the way that capital assets are delivered and managed. The Kahua Network is the world’s leading collaborative network for real estate and construction project management. Delivered as a secure, scalable Application Platform-as-a-Service (aPaaS), The Kahua Network enables users to easily share data, documents and workflows across all applications and projects. Kahua solutions improve agility, reduce risk and create competitive advantage, enabling project teams to profitably deliver owners the highest performance assets at the lowest possible cost. Kahua supports leading mobile devices and tablets, integrates with third party applications and numerous accounting systems, and enables customers and certified development partners to quickly modify existing applications or build custom applications that operate on The Kahua Network. To learn more, visit www.kahua.com.

About McCormick Systems: Privately owned, McCormick Systems has been providing award winning estimating solutions to specialty contractors in all aspects of the Electrical, Low Voltage, and the Plumbing & Mechanical trades since 1979. Founded by a contractor, McCormick emphasizes in its products and services the #1 desire of contractors – productivity. McCormick Systems is continually recognized as the Nation’s Leader in Estimating Software. McCormick products are proudly developed and supported in the USA. For more information visit www.mccormicksys.com.

Media Contact:
Kahua
Jim Wilson
770-617-2208
media@kahua.com

Media Contact:
McCormick Systems, Inc.
Lori McCormick
480-831-8914
lmccormick@mccormicksys.com